Our 2023/2024 season was an interesting one. The weather was certainly trying for all. Many meetings off and waterlogged. Global warming...

We started last season with a winner for John Perriss with his good mare I Spy A Diva at Warwick. Gosh, that feels a long time ago! Destroytheevidence won at Worcester in May and went on to win two other races at Kempton and was placed in a couple of good races at Cheltenham and Doncaster. In fact, it was to be a good season for Phil and Gill Andrews who certainly endured a shocker the season before. This time it came good for The Edgar Wallace who won two and probably should have at least won another. Their Mr Grey Sky won two also. Phil is involved in The Kemble Brewery Breakfast at 10 syndicate who after winning a couple of bumpers sadly struck into himself on his hurdling debut at Cheltenham and missed the rest of the season. He is ok and as they say fate/time!

Elizabeth Kellar could not contain her excitement when watching her homebred mare Faerie Cutlass win at Worcester. The smile on her face shows why having a homebred winner is just such a thrill. John and Laura Garrett's French bred horse Jeudidee won a bumper at Warwick and then went on to win two hurdle races at Worcester and Exeter. Shantou Express carried top weight at Stratford, a race he had won before. SE wins every season - a great syndicate horse to be involved in!

Richard and Susan Davies moved Lady Gwen here and she won first time out at Stratford and then went on to win a couple more. She ran about 8 times in 8 weeks and was never unplaced. Mikhailovich won easily at Huntingdon and was third on his next run at Market Rasen. He loves quick ground, so this winter was not for him.

Chepstow in the pouring rain and it was horizontal to say the least. Cornelius Lysaght joined Richard Pilkington in the paddock to watch Chianti Classico make a hugely impressive winning start to his chasing career. Jumping like a buck he sailed through the mud like a knife through butter! Chianti Classico went on to have the most brilliant season, winning at Ascot for his owners Francis Brooke and Richard Pilkington. It was Francis's first winner at his racecourse, when I say his racecourse, I mean that Francis is His Majesty's Representative at Ascot. It was a very special, but nerve-racking day as the ground was far too fast for CC who never looked happy on it, but guts took him through to win. CC went on to finish second at Kempton and then as we all know he gave us that important win at The Cheltenham Festival. A day none of us will ever forget. Including watching David Bass entering the winner's enclosure like a conquering Roman General entering Rome. Trelawne was also in the same race at Cheltenham but sadly he fell at the second fence. I just love Trelawne, perhaps like me he has no pedigree, although Trelawne is not an Essex boy, but at least he is seriously talented. Sandra Steer-Fowler's home bred started off with an impressive win at Carlisle and then was placed in good company at Cheltenham and Wetherby, frankly he was unlucky not to win both. Thankfully he was OK after his fall and after summer out he will return stronger and hopefully a wiser and better horse.

Percy Veering the horse that finally came good and won three chases. Time and patience can be very rewarding and for his happy band of loyal supporters he did them proud.

Heros de Romay was given a fine ride by Gavin Sheehan to win at Chepstow and Heros went on to be placed on both his next runs. He has schooled over fences and that will be his forte this coming season. Talking great rides Gavin Sheehan gave Parc d'Amour an outstanding one to win at Huntingdon.. He missed the break and got left behind.. did not panic and got up on the line!

One of the results of the season and probably the most exciting was watching Ciaran Gethings somehow lift victory out of the jaws of defeat on General Hubble in the dark at Market Rasen. Mat said that it was his moment of the season. It was a huge win for his happy team of owners who celebrated that win in some style.

If ever a horse threw his lot at a race and wore his heart on his sleeve then that horse must be First Flow.. He ran some cracking races but winning at Lingfield on what was to be his last race was a very special moment. You could see the pleasure and admiration on David Bass's face when they went past the post in front.. I should have announced his retirement there and then but there would not have been a big enough bucket and with Matt Chapman breathing down my neck... I was not man enough to cope! The good news is that FF has a wonderful life ahead of him in retirement as he is in Ireland with Kayleigh Thompson who looked after Tony Solomons other great horse Harry Topper. Does He Know showed us his zest for the game is still there when putting up an incredible weight carrying performance to win the Grimthorpe Chase off a mark of 149 under David Bass.

Towards the end of the season things began to quieten down due to the handicapper catching up with many of our horses and as we all know it is a numbers game and we have been short in that department, but Magical Escape won well at Chepstow and showed what he is capable of and Halligator did the same when winning under top weight at Huntingdon to end our season.

We finished 27th in the trainers list with £498,249.00 in prize money..32 winners..22 seconds and 26 thirds from the 57 horses we ran.

A big thank you to all my owners, David Bass and Ciaran Gethings who rode most of our horses and Peter Kerr for tirelessly organising our in-house KBR syndicates... That was the 2023/2024 season.

During the summer, many things have happened. Firstly, we added an all-weather schooling strip and then after nearly 10 years of being my stable jockey David Bass decided to move on. It was his decision, and we can look back with fond memories and many huge successes.

So, we start this year with the same base team. My business partner and soon to be joint licence holder Mat Nicholls. Charly Bond heads into her second season as Head Person - she has been a huge addition to the team. Leigh Pollard as travelling head person. You all know Leigh and appreciate all she does, especially when looking after your horses at the races best turned-out awards come thick and fast. Lauren Hawkins helps too, and Lauren also now holds a full Amateur Licence. Alex Hall our blacksmith.. good feet make good horses. On the jockey front Ciaran Gethings is in here twice a week and will be riding when available and after that we will using the best available. Maya Quist, my PA has suffered nearly two years of being in the office and when not helping me she is a very valuable person to send racing when needed. Sandie Wilkinson still holds the cheque book and for that we can all be thankful...and of course, Mrs B, who when not looking after me is sorting and finding good homes for our horses when they retire and she is an ear to all the problems in the yard.

The summer has been slow with only a few runners but now with the winter season ahead we can look forward to loads of action. During the Spring and summer, we have purchased several exciting Irish points to pointers and a few youngsters who have been broken in and will appear here for the second half of the season. Like the start of every new season, we are hugely hopeful of winners and big winners to boot. I am lucky to have such loyal owners, and I really cannot thank you enough for all your support.

May We Never Be Found Out Partnership 2

A big backwards horse who we minded for the first part of the winter as he was always going to take time to come to hand. He had a couple of away days in the spring and we liked what we saw but this imposing grey needed another summer before seeing a racecourse. He will make his debut in the autumn most likely in a bumper and he is the type that will continue to improve as the season goes along.

Mr John Perriss

Bobhopeornohope has had a very tough year. He ran very well for a long way on seasonal debut at Warwick before stopping quickly and did the same again at Ludlow in December. He really just couldn't cope with the very bad ground all winter and we put him away to try and campaign him in the spring. He ran well at Kempton and looked like getting involved before again stopping quickly. He was plagued with issues with his sinus all year and we thought it would be best to put him away and start again. If we can get him back to anywhere near his best – he is a very well handicapped horse this winter.

Dr David Carey (Not The Turf Club)

A smashing mare who gives her all every day of the week. She started her season with a brilliant run in a very deep Cheltenham Novice Hurdle. She was then placed at Kempton where she ran into a couple of smart ones – before finishing behind a mare who went on to win at The Cheltenham Festival at Taunton. Armed with a handicap mark she ran a good race to be second at Ludlow and we decided to aim at the big money mares handicap hurdle at Kelso but unfortunately the meeting was abandoned. Re-organised for a couple of weeks later it seemed that she was slightly over the top by the time we got there. She is just not the type you can keep on the boil for a long time. She goes into this winter still a novice and will be one to follow in mares only races.

We were really looking forward to getting Broomfield Present over fences this winter – he started off with a credible third at Exeter on ground that was a shade too quick for him and was running a mighty race when brought down three out at Uttoxeter. We stepped him up to a marathon trip at Exeter next time, but he made a small noise turning in and was pulled up. He met with a set back before we could get his wind sorted out and missed the remainder of the season. He will be back for a novice handicap chase campaign later in the year.

It's Only Money

Hugely exciting young horse that we bought from Newmarket's October Sale. He was rated 87 on the flat and was being primed for a Novice hurdle campaign when meeting with a setback and his very patient owners decided it was best to give him a long break after what had been a tough flat season the previous summer. He had been schooling exceptionally well and is a smart horse going forwards – the time he has had off will certainly not be lost on him.

Sir Francis Brooke & R A Pilkington

What a superstar! His season pretty much went like clockwork. It is not often a plan comes together as well as his did at The Cheltenham festival in March. He jumped beautifully first time out at Chepstow before showing how tough he was when grinding out a win on ground that was slightly too quick at Ascot in November. After a short break he went to Kempton to get in his third run. He ran a superb race to get some much needed experience in a competitive handicap chase. From there all roads led to the Ultima at Cheltenham and he could be called a winner from a long way out travelling and jumping beautifully before forging clear up the run in to give us our third Cheltenham festival winner in the last nine years. We stepped up to Grade 1 company at Aintree and he was perhaps not seen to his best but finished a gallant fourth. All options remain open this year - he will most likely start at Ascot in November and we would love to think we could end up back at Aintree in April with a live chance in the Grand National.

A beautiful big horse by Milan who we bought at the Cheltenham February sale. He really caught the eye when winning on his debut at Cragmore and we were really excited to get him. As with most of the point to pointers we buy mid-season we like to give them the summer off as they have had such a hard winter. He will start off in the autumn most probably straight over hurdles and is a name to follow particularly when he goes jumping fences.

Destroytheevidence

Phil & Gill Andrews

What a brilliant season Destroytheevidence had – after a pipe opener at Southwell he won twice at Kempton to add to his early season win at Worcester to make it three hurdle wins for the season. We stepped up in class at Cheltenham for a Grade 2 in December and he ran an absolute stormer only being battled out of it on the run in to finish second. We then trained him for the River Don at Doncaster and he finished an excellent fourth with the emphasis on speed that day not really suiting us. He was very much ready for a holiday after his run at Newbury in the spring and has schooled well over fences and he will be going novice chasing this winter.

Yes He Does Syndicate

A wonderful old favourite around the yard. He was late starting last season after a little set back and we went to Wetherby where he found the horrible ground and incredibly fast pace all against him. He took a big step forward next time out at Newbury in a listed race and he went to Doncaster for the Grimthorpe chase in a very confident mood. He put up a tremendous weight carrying performance to win off 149 – showing that all the old sparkle was still there. His end of season target at Kelso was abandoned so with no other options we ran in the Bet 365 Gold Cup at Sandown where the big field was completely against him. He has been a fantastic horse to have around the yard and will be qualified for Veteran Chases after Christmas – his zest for the game is still evident and hopefully he will get his head in front again this season.

New to the yard this year – he was bought by Kevin Ross for his owners at the Punchestown Festival sale after winning his PTP at Boris House in April. The first son of Harzand that we have trained, we are still getting to know him, but he shows a real good attitude to life. He could run in a bumper or go straight Novice hurdling.

Last season started with high hopes, but things never went right. He had a nasty injury early in the season that kept him off for a while. His first two runs back – it appeared something was amiss. After showing plenty of promise at Huntingdon, we went over fences, but things obviously still were not right. His owners decided that a long summer break was probably the best thing for him and we very much hope we can get his career back on track in the early part of the season.

A homebred daughter of Telescope, she is a big goodlooking mare and as with a lot of the Telescopes took a while to come to hand. She was showing up well in her work during the spring and was schooling nicely but the ground dried out and she was given a summer break to continue maturing. She has done very well for a summers grass and will hopefully pay her way in the mares series.

Fair Frontiers had a tough season last year, he was never quite right during the early part of the year and really struggled on his chase debut at Huntingdon in November. After this we spent a long time trying to get him back. He ran well for a long way at Wetherby on Boxing Day before sustaining a bad fall at the last and then was disappointing at Ascot next time out. He had a minor wind operation and a long break. He came back in the spring and was far more like himself running a terrific race at Kempton to finish third when looking like the winner turning in. He has come in from his summer at grass looking very well. He is a well handicapped horse to go forwards with this winter and could easily go back over fences.

Gerard Mentor hasn't had the greatest of summers but as yet things have not fallen right for him. He needs quick ground and a very fast pace to perform at his best. Grand Escaparde is a huge horse who has always been very immature both mentally and physically. He didn't waste an awful lot of time over hurdles and once equipped with a handicap mark we went over fences. He ran a very nice race to be third at Ffos Las on his chase debut, just failing to get to grips with the well experienced front runner. He has had wind surgery over the summer and looks the type to keep improving.

A fine big chasing type who started his season off with a very impressive battling win at Chepstow under Gavin Sheehan, jumping and travelling well throughout. He followed this up with a third at Wincanton where he found the right-handed track against him. He was slightly underwhelming in a handicap hurdle at Chepstow later in the year albeit the form of that race worked out particularly well! He has schooled well over fences and should make up into a nice novice chaser.

This horse has been so unlucky, he jumped brilliantly on his chase debut at Warwick in November and was ten lengths clear when he didn't get his landing gear out over the last and took a nasty fall. This left a real mark on him and it took us a long time to get him back. He started to show something in the spring and ran a blinder at Ascot in April. He found the ground slightly against him at Bangor next time out but then ran another cracking race back at Warwick in the spring finishing second to a well handicapped horse of Dan Skeltons. He should be capable of winning races over fences this winter.

Having had a brilliant season over hurdles in 2023 she unfortunately sustained a slight injury which meant she missed all last season. It has been incredibly frustrating but as I am sure you all know I am a great believer in fate, and she is a mare that prefers the slightly faster ground and all last winter that was something we simply did not have! She heads back from a long spell off having done some pre-training before she returned to Thorndale. We did school her over fences 18 months ago, so there is every possibility that this may be the route for her this coming season. We will know more when we get her going.

After a winter in the doldrums Mr Grey Sky bounced back in no uncertain terms. He started off at Huntingdon in November and jumped fantastically well under Ciaran Gethings to grind out a very impressive win. He then went to Chepstow on his much-preferred soft ground and again jumped superbly to win in what was quite a good race. As expected, the handicapper then had his say, he was not beaten far at Wincanton before running into one at Newcastle on his final start. Now a veteran, he still shows lots of his old enthusiasm and hopefully he can get his head in front this winter.

Parc d'Amour took a while to find his feet over hurdles but after running very well at Huntingdon in October and again at Plumpton the following month things really began to click into gear for him. He came from an impossible position under Gavin Sheehan to win cosily at Huntingdon in November. After a winter break to avoid the worst of the ground he was a very eye catching second back at the same venue. We then went over fences and he jumped professionally to win at Southwell in May before finishing a good third at Worcester. It was most likely a bridge too far when he ran again at Stratford. Once again, the handicapper had his say and after a nasty fall at Wincanton in January he was back on track to finish a good third at Leicester in March. He will perhaps need a little bit of help from the handicapper, but we are hopeful there could be more improvement after another summers grass.

Mrs I.C Sellars and Miss D.C Sellars

OR - FORM unraced

A stunning big horse by Soldier of Fortune who is still in pre-training at Martin Jones. He is a big horse and will be given all the time he needs before he comes to us with the hope of making his racecourse debut in a bumper in the new year. He is a horse we really like and hopefully his owner's patience will be well rewarded.

Seatoit

2019 b.g by Affinisea ex Sararogane
Julie And David R Martin And Dan Hall

OR - FORM 42

A very promising horse and the first horse we have trained by Affinisea – he was second in a Punchestown bumper to a very highly thought of horse of Gordon Elliotts and they were well clear of the third. He has schooled well and is a horse we hope can go a long way over hurdles this winter.

Shady Wadey

OR - FORM 56

2020 ch.g by Luck Of The Kitten ex Riviera Rose
R Wadey

Shady Wadey was incredibly green and backwards through most of last winter but did some smart work, so we took him to Ludlow for his racecourse debut where he was green but ran on to be an eye catching fifth. He then went to Market Rasen because he was in dire need of more experience and he ran a nice race again although it did tell us he was ready for a summers break. He has schooled very well and is the type to improve with racing as the winter goes along.

Shantou Express

OR 112 FORM 8976P

2015 ch.g by Shantou ex Spanker
The Second Chancers

Shantou spent the early part of the winter in the clutch of the handicapper but certainly gave his owners some nice days out at the big tracks. When the handicapper finally relented in the spring, we expected him to be getting his head back in front, but he disappointed and it was decided to give him a much-deserved summer break – something he had not had for a couple of years. Now back in full training he looks fantastic and we hope he has a very workable handicap mark for this winter.

So You Know

OR - FORM unraced

2021 b.g by Sogann ex Diavoleria
Here We Go Again

Half-brother to our old favourite, Does He Know. He really caught the eye at the Goffs Arkle sale, and we were delighted to get him. He moves well and we are thrilled with his work at home so far. He may see a racecourse in the spring, he is certainly a horse with a big future.

Talk of the Moon

OR 83 FORM 65873

2017 b.m by Pether's Moon ex Tara The Gossip
E Hawkings A Lofts B Harding M Harris

Talk of the moon is a tough mare who missed all last winter due to injury. Hopefully, the time will not have been lost on her and she is at the right end of the handicap to be a progressive mare on soft ground handicap hurdles. She is one for later in the year.

The Edgar Wallace

OR 135 FORM 11220

2015 b.g by Flemensfirth ex Annalecky
Phil & Gill Andrews

The Edgar Wallace had a fantastic season and a lot of credit must go to our farrier, Alex Hall as he is a horse who has been plagued with foot problems. He won a very competitive handicap at Wetherby on Charlie Hall day before following up at Leicester and then somehow managed to be beaten into second at Wetherby and Newcastle. He finished his season off by having the time of his life over the big fences at Aintree in April – the handicapper has obviously had his say after such a good year but there still could be a little more to come from this progressive 9-year-old.

The Kemble Brewery

OR - FORM 113

2019 b.g by Blue Bresil ex Legendara
Breakfast At 10 Syndicate

An exciting horse who started his season with an ultra-impressive win in a bumper at Cheltenham in October. He had schooled very well before heading back there in November for the maiden hurdle but unfortunately he made a bad mistake at the first and returned with a very nasty cut. This meant he needed plenty of time off to recover, so he missed the rest of the season. He is now back after his break; he looks fantastic, and he could go a long way over hurdles this winter.

Thruthe Looking Glass

OR 111 FORM 82U53

2017 b.g by Kayf Tara ex Amazing D'Azy
Mr & Mrs K R Ellis

Missed all last season and he is a lovely looking homebred who has shown plenty over hurdles. The time has done him the world of good and we hope he will be very competitive in soft ground handicap chases later in the year.

Top Target

OR 120 FORM 2124P

2018 b.g by Westerner ex New Targets
Mr John Perriss

A good looking horse by a stallion we love, he was a progressive novice hurdler two seasons ago but he missed all of last season and will be back after Christmas. He is another smart novice handicap chaser to go forwards with.

Tregele

OR 104 FORM 5P531

2018 b.g by Mahler ex Emily Gray
Julie And David R Martin And Dan Hall

This tough son of Mahler has always showed plenty at home, he was very immature and took a while to come to hand but started to produce a few good runs where he looked like the winner but just not quite getting home. He had a minor wind operation before bolting up at Uttoxeter under Tom Bellamy. He has now having a short break and will be back this autumn.

Trelawne

OR 144 FORM 1323F

2016 b.g by Geordieland ex Black Collar
The Real Partnership

An exceptionally smart chaser if slightly enigmatic. He started the season with an impressive win up at Carlisle before finishing third in a red-hot novice chase at Cheltenham and costing himself victory at Wetherby in a Grade 2 after being slightly erratic on the way round! He was placed at Exeter before an early fall at the Cheltenham festival. Thankfully, he seems fine and he is a horse that could go an awful long way this winter on soft ground. The plan is to start at Carlisle in the Intermediate Chase.

Two For Gold

OR 151 FORM P9P26

2013 b.g by Gold Well ex Two Of Each
May We Never Be Found Out Partnership 2

A grand old campaigner who still shows all his enthusiasm every morning, he started last season with a cracking second at his beloved Ascot before struggling with the heavy ground through the winter, we aimed him back at Ascot in the spring when he again went down on his sword and finished second. He absolutely adores Ascot and we will do our best to find races for him back there this winter.

Undercover Lover

OR - FORM 0

2018 b.g by Cloudings ex Another Gaye
Mrs I C Sellars & Miss D C Sellars

A stunning looking horse who shows an awful lot at home but has had a few career setbacks. His owner has been ultra patient and hopefully he can transfer what he shows in the morning to the racecourse in the afternoons – he is certainly one to follow later in the year.

Von Hallers

OR 77 FORM UPP6P

2018 br.m by Presenting ex Afaraka
Mr John Perriss

A good-looking mare who had a disappointing season after being brought down on her debut at Ludlow. We got her handicapped and went over fences at Herford however the ground was far too quick and truthfully, she was ready for a good break. She starts the season off a basement mark and hopefully we can get her career back on track this winter.

Wild Goose

OR - FORM unraced

2020 b.g by Yates x Poppy Come Running
Mrs Marion Hudson

A smashing type by Yates, what he lacks in size he makes up for in attitude. He has a very smart pedigree and seems mentally very forwards. He was showing a lot at the back end of last season, but we thought a break would benefit him more. He should be one to show up well in a bumper early in the season.

Zmiinyi

OR - FORM P294

2018 b.g by Soldier Of Fortune ex Whisper Rock
Soldiering On Syndicate

Zmiinyi had a difficult first season, he had been working nicely prior to his racecourse debut at Chepstow where he showed up well for a long way and perhaps tired a little in the straight. Disappointing on his next start at Leicester, he had a few issues which kept him off the course for the rest of the season. We hope to see a completely different horse this term and it won't be long until he is running over fences.

FOR SALE: Imperial Hurricane

2017 b.g by Black Sam Bellamy ex Silverlined

He missed last season with a minor problem but being such a big horse we felt it wouldn't do him any harm to have time to grow into himself. He showed ability in his hurdle races and ran well in his only chase at Chepstow where he should have finished third but was caught close to home. He has now fully matured and I think he is very well handicapped and off that mark surely, he should be winning races back over fences. One for the notebook?

FOR SALE or FOR LEASE: Land Afar

2015 b.g by Kalanisi ex On The Highway

A very immature horse who has not been the easiest to train but has always shown an awful lot at home and that is backed up by some very strong bumper form. He ran well on his hurdle debut at Huntingdon in March, arguably unlucky not to have won. He jumped and travelled very well and finished second to an experienced horse. He looks very well and will surely be winning races sooner rather than later.

FOR SALE: Guchen

2020 gr.g by Cima De Triomphe ex Captur

Arrived in the Autumn from France and took a while to acclimatise but once we started working him after Christmas we were really impressed with what we saw. He made his debut at Southwell and was surprisingly green. After looking like he might be involved turning into the home straight he weakened slightly to finish fifth. He has had a well-deserved summer break and has come back in looking a different horse. He jumps well and should be a fun horse to follow this winter.

FOR SALE: Name Me Nicely

2020 gr.g by Kingston Hill ex Presenting Melody

A gorgeous horse by the ever popular Kingston Hill, winner of the St Leger and runner up in The Derby. He is one of the leading sires of 4 year old Irish Point winners. Name Me Nicely is out of a Presenting mare, who has already produced a winner. He caught our eye when finishing third on his only point run at Belclear looking very green when they quickened up but finished very strongly once the penny dropped. He is an athletic type who is improving every day and we think he could have a big future.

FOR SALE: Son Of A Pirate

2019 ch.g by Black Sam Bellamy ex Presenting Taupo

A big backwards son of Black Sam Bellamy – he has taken a while to mature but did some lovely pieces of work towards the back end of last season. We have turned him out over the summer to fill his frame and continue to mature. He is a horse we like and hopefully he can show plenty over hurdles this season.

FOR SALE: Court In A Storm

2019 b.g by Court Cave ex Aimigayle

A Court Cave gelding who took a while to come to hand but always showed an awful lot at home. He made his debut in a bumper at Huntingdon and was very green before running on to be second to a more experienced horse. The form of that race has worked out well and he is now ready to start a novice hurdle campaign. A horse we think a lot of, he will continue to improve as the season goes on.

Kim Bailey Racing Syndicate

If you have always wanted to own a well-bred quality racehorse with a top National Hunt yard, then purchasing a share in a Kim Bailey Racing Syndicate is the perfect way for you to fulfil your ownership dreams.

Owning your very own racehorse can be expensive, that is why Kim Bailey Racing Syndicates have been developed to allow enthusiastic owners an opportunity to be involved in very promising racehorses at a more affordable level. Another advantage of joining a syndicate is being able to spread your risk. Rather than buying a horse outright you can purchase a number of shares in different horses giving you more opportunities to go racing and have winners!

Unlike other partnerships the Kim Bailey Racing Syndicates have their own identity, therefore:

- You own the horse You name the partnership ie. Ace in the Pack Partnership.
- You choose the racing colours.
- You also decide on a name for the horse (if un-named when you purchase your share).
- Your partnership has its own bank account.
- You can visit your horse at a convenient time 7 days a week with family and friends.
- You receive 2 racecourse badges every time your horse runs
